Dear Jack,

With a dock box full of assorted cleaners, waxes, lubricants and corrosion inhibitors, the last thing I needed was another product. However, after your impressive demonstration at the Miami Boat Show I agreed to purchase a bottle and do a controlled test on the legs of my tuna tower using Corrosion X and three other products (ie Shielia Shine, WD 40 and Corrosion Block).

Before I had a chance to do my test, the electronics shop called and said my Furno radar unit was salt damaged beyond repair and a new $1600 circuit board would be required. The old circuit board was streaked with salt deposits and the plating and terminals were black with corrosion. Rather than throwing the old board out, I decided to give Corrosion X a try.

That night my daughter and I scrubbed all the circuit boards with a tooth brush and Corrosion X. The next morning after reassembly and installment, the radar performed as new!!

Sincerely yours,

Bill

P.S. Corrosion X has outlasted all other products in protecting our tuna tower and outriggers.
